DPT Laboratories Announces Business Development Promotion and Team Structure Change

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS – DPT Laboratories, Ltd, a pharmaceutical contract development and manufacturing organization, announced today that Lynn Allen has been promoted to Director, Business Development – Western U.S. Region & Europe.

In her new role, she will be responsible for leading a team of business development professionals in pursuit of new business opportunities in the western region of the United States and Europe. Allen joined DPT in 2005 as a Business Development Manager.

“Throughout her career at DPT, Lynn has proven to be a superior business development professional. She has consistently provided her customers with innovative approaches to meet their development and manufacturing goals,” said Paul Josephs, vice president of sales and marketing. “Based on her success throughout her career at DPT, I am confident she will be successful in her new role leading one of our business development teams.”

In addition to Allen’s promotion, DPT has restructured the Business Development team to address the rapidly expanding needs of its customers. JJ Feik has assumed the role of Senior Director, Business Development – Eastern U.S. Region. Feik was promoted to this leadership position in June 2010 after a successful role as Director of Marketing. Feik has been a catalyst in improving key processes and business development effectiveness.

“The sales team restructure helps ensure that we’re able to manage our growth and better serve our customers’ complex needs,” added Josephs. “Lynn and JJ’s leadership will be critical in helping us develop solutions and solidifying ourselves as the dominant player in the semi-solid and liquids marketplace.”
